Jadeite Authenticity Report

Report #	191031-192
Description	~6.79 x 6.75 x 2.90mm loose green jade square tablet, 1.92ct
Date	October 31, 2019

191031-192 : ~6.79 x 6.75 x 2.90mm loose green jade square tablet, 1.92ct

Known A Jade Sample : Type 'A' known natural jadeite jade sample

Known B Jade Sample : Type 'B' known impregnated jadeite jade sample

NOTE: The presence of impregnation produces a particular spike pattern in the hydrocarbon region of the spectrum - approximately 2800 to 3100 wavenumbers. Natural jadeite will have no such spike. Spiking outside this region is of no significance.

Instruments used: Refractometer, Standard Spectrometer, Infrared Spectrometer

Conclusion: Natural Jadeite Jade - No Dye or Impregnation Detected - 'A' Jade

2. Highly Important Jadeite Bangle

Jadeite is an integral part of China's history, a symbol of the nobility and the laws that govern heaven and Earth. Emperor Xuanzong of Tang (who reigned over China's Tang Dynasty from 712 to 765 CE) had a special jadeite bracelet crafted for his musically and artistically talented muse and created a new elliptical shape for jadeite bangles in the process. Because the bracelet was carved to be an oval and not a perfect circle, it was specially designed to flatter the slender wrist of the emperor's consort and dubbed the Guifei bangle.

In 2014, Sotheby's auctioned off a jadeite Guifei bangle that was considered exceptional because of its size, transparency and vivid green color. The bangle sold for over $5.2 million USD.
